

Meeting of the Technical Committee – March 10, 2010

Joint Land Use Study

NAS/JRB New Orleans • Belle Chasse, LA

The JLUS Technical Committee Role

The JLUS Technical Committee is comprised of area planners, managers of the participating jurisdictions, local residents and business owners, and representatives of the NAS/JRB New Orleans. The committee will be responsible for identifying and studying the technical aspects of the JLUS process and providing recommendations to the Policy Committee.

This will include:

- Identify technical issues to assist in development and evaluation of JLUS strategies and tools.
- Participation in the development of policy recommendations and implementation of adopted policies.
- Sharing local data, maps, ordinances and other information important to the development of the study.
- Participation in public involvement efforts.
- Technical review of draft and final written reports.
